

Best High-Quality Medical Wraps Provider - Germany

For more than 25 years Wickel & Co. ® GmbH has been a manufacturer of high quality natural health products utilising the very best materials to ensure the safety and comfort of their clients. We profile the firm to explore how it came to achieve the phenomenal success that it enjoys today.

▲ Drawing on almost three decades' worth of experience, Wickel & Co. ® have been producing winding sets and other accessories for a simple and technically correct application - made from only natural raw materials of first-class quality.

Enthusiasm and a great fascination for the healing powers of nature were the driving force for the company's founder Ursula Uhlemayr when she first began exploring creating her products. Ursula gave many lectures and seminars recognizing that the seminar participants have a great interest in and fascination of the healing powers of natural medicine.

However, she found that the necessary natural materials of the appropriate size and quality were often missing in many households, therefore she founded Wickel & Co.®

Today the firm offers a vast array of wraps and pads for a variety of applications. These include preventative, detoxifying wraps, natural remedies such as beeswax wraps for coughs and colds, as well as therapies such as ear compresses for earache and calf wraps for fever. These wraps can be applied to almost every part of the body and used on patients of all ages, allowing safe and natural support.

These innovative health products are predominantly provided to pharmacies and specialist trade, although business partners of Wickel & Co have an internet-mail-order-business to supply the products directly to clients. The firm also have a seminar offer to gain knowledge about the right use and provide books to deepen knowledge.

When the firm first started, the application of wraps was more complicated and the appropriate materials for wraps were missing. The innovation of Wickel & Co. ® is the development of wraps to establish a better handling and to provide high quality for the efficacy of wraps. Thanks to Wickel & Co®'s focus on education, today the wraps are popular with every age group starting with babies through to the elderly. As such the firm has a wide customer base comprising of young families, sportspeople and older people with chronic complaints who want an effective, natural and traditionally established way of recovery. Wickel & Co®'s wraps relieve pain in a gentle, natural way and provide security and well-being. The myriad of uses that the products have has led to the firm becoming increasingly popular with young families, who now count as its biggest customer base.

Fundamentally, the use of the right materials contributes significantly to the success of a healing method. As such, thanks to its diverse products range of products, Wickel & Co. ® offer variable and easy-to-use applications that cover every aspect of a person's life.

In addition to supporting the health and wellbeing of users, the

Supported by the enthusiasm for naturopathy, Ursula Uhlemayr wrote her first book Wickel & Co., Tried and Rediscovered, which was published by a well-known publishing house in 1997. Soon there was a Spanish translation of the title and a Hungarian translation followed. In 2000, she founded her own publishing house, the Urs-Verlag, from which the successful title Wickel & Co., Bärestarke home remedies for children (currently on its 24th edition) and the vein counsellor with Dr. med. Hildebrandt were published. In 2015 a new guide was published by the German pharmacists' publisher entitled "Wickel und Auflagen – Beratung, Auswahl und Anwendung" "Wickel and pads – Advice, Selection and Application", written by Ursula Uhlemayr and the specialised pharmacist Dietmar Wolz.

firm's wraps are also sustainable, and therefore help to keep the planet healthy as well. Produced in Germany, the raw materials are produced just nearby in Germany or Austria, ensuring a reduced carbon footprint for the product. The entire production process is completely controlled in-house, starting with a careful selection of materials, high quality workmanship and a conscientious quality control to ensure excellence, reliability and sustainability for clients, as well as full accountability and quality control for the firm itself.

Looking to the future, Wickel & Co® plans to continue to promote the natural therapeutic benefits of its solutions through seminars and lectures, particularly focusing on specific groups such as paediatricians, naturopaths, physiotherapists and pharmacists. This will offer the firm many exciting opportunities to grow and work with new clients, which Ursula and her team are keen to take advantage of.

To support the firm's continued growth, over the years Ursula and her dedicated team have remained committed to teaching clients and healthcare practitioners the benefits of the firm's products, through seminars, lectures and published works.
